

1. Why are you pursuing this office? Being involved in the criminal justice system (CJS) for over 20 years has given me insightful respect for the criminal justice process as a whole. I understand that the CJS is a very necessary part of our society, though it is not perfect. People make up the process and they make the process what it is or is not. I believe my diverse experience can serve the people of this county. I intend to be a part of the solution as it relates to some of the issues we have in the criminal justice system. The original intent of the CJS was to better the community. We need to reemploy that intent and I feel I can be a positive and effective part of that...

2. Who are your five largest contributors? The Revill Law Firm, Houser Oil (former employer), Darryl Bender esq., and Benefits Consulting LLC and Myself.

3. What is your judicial philosophy? Judges should preside in a fair and justice way that holds individuals accountable for wrongdoing; mercy should be shown where appropriate and a judge's judgement should be tempered with common sense.

4. What are your 3 highest priorities in your judicial practice? 1.) To fulfil my role as judge with integrity 2.) To serve the citizens of this county 3.) To provide a respectful and fair environment where all parties can advocate for their client's interest.

5. Where do you find motivation and inspiration for your job? The motivation for my current job is root in a love for God and people. It is my belief that we were created to glorify God and to reflect his glory by serving others.

6. Approximately how many cases have you been the lead counsel on? Over my thirteen years of serving as a trial attorney with the district attorney's office I've served as lead counsel on hundreds of cases.

7. If we were to inquire with opposing counsel with whom you previously opposed in a trial or legal proceedings, what do you think would be their characterization of you? How would you describe yourself? I'm confident that opposing counsel would describe me as competent, fair and someone who possesses sound judgement.

I consider myself competent, fair and someone of morally sound judgement.

8. Describe your current family life. My family life is good. I love being a husband and father.

9. What are some of your community activities? I have been a long term member of a group called Fit for Life which is a youth mentorship initiative; I serve as an inspirational speaker for youth around the county. I'm a part of the James Lewis Tennis Center in Ensley where we offer free tennis lesson to the youth.

10. What church do you attend and what is your pastor's name? After attending my last fellowship for many years my wife and I decided to seek another place to serve and worship, then my campaign started. I attend Living Stones Temple but I have not officially joined. My family and I will not join a fellowship until after my campaign for judge has ended.
